BELLE LONDON IS GIVEN 18 YEARS

Virtually Sentenced to Life Imprisonment on the Conviction of Having Enticed Dorney Grey, a Young Girl, to the Stockade in Salt Lake City—Mrs. Topham Will Appeal.

Salt Lake City, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Dora B. Topham, known as "Belle London," part owner and manager of the "stockade," Salt Lake's restricted district, recently abolished by the police, was sentenced to 18 years in the penitentiary today under the new state vice law.

Mrs. Topham was convicted of enticing Dorney Grey, a young Salt Lake girl, to the "stockade."

Mrs. Topham's attorneys will carry the case to the supreme court.

The attorneys for Mrs. Topham, in appealing to the court, claimed that the jury which convicted the woman was unduly influenced in arriving at a verdict of guilty by the presence of many prominent women in the court room during the trial.

Mrs. Topham appeared before Judge F. C. Lofthouse at 10 o'clock for sentence.

Attorneys O. W. Powers, Thomas Marionaux and E. A. Rogers asked for an arrest of judgment and argued a motion for a new trial. The motion for an arrest of judgment was based upon legal technicalities, but the motion for a new trial was based principally upon the affidavits prepared yesterday.

G. W. Whipple, an employee of the Mountain States Telephone company, in an affidavit, stated he overheard a conversation between Belle London and Dorney Grey, in which it is alleged the London woman told the girl to "go back to the laundry," her former place of employment. Whipple said that as collector for the telephone company he called on the London woman on the day she had her first interview with Dorney Grey, and heard her question the girl as to her age. When the girl said she was not yet twenty, Whipple says, the stockade mistress told her she could not come into the stockade. This statement, the attorneys for the convicted woman declared, should be accepted by the court as new evidence of her innocence of detaining the girl in the resort.

Judge Lofthouse denied the motion for a new trial and then, after asking Mrs. Topham if she had anything to say, proceeded to review the evidence and finally pronounced the sentence which is equivalent to life imprisonment for a woman the age of Mrs. Topham.

Immediately Judge Powers gave notice that an appeal would be taken to the supreme court.

Mrs. Topham did not show outward sign of emotion when the sentence was pronounced.

IDAHO OFFICIALS HALT THE WOMEN

Prevent Them From Bringing Mrs. Edward J. Chandler Back to Ogden For Trial on the Charge of Beating a Baby, an Adopted Child—Another Attempt Will Be Made to Have the Governor of Idaho Yield.

The following communication was addressed to City Physician Mrs. Annie Ries-Findley, in response to a request by members of the board of directors of the Crittenton Home of this city for the return from Idaho of Mrs. Elmer Chandler, charged with beating her adopted child of nine months, a complaint having been filed against the woman and a warrant for her arrest issued.

"Dear Madam: By direction of the governor, I beg to advise you as follows with relation to the Chandler case:

"According to a telegram received from Mr. J. H. Peterson, assistant attorney general of Idaho, Boise, Idaho, the Chandlers were accorded an interview with the governor of Idaho, and in the presence of Mr. Peterson assured them that no requisition would be honored on charge of abuse of that baby, consequently the officials of Utah are powerless to bring the woman back to this state, requisition being their only recourse. Very respectfully, (Signed) E. M. Sheets, Clerk to the Governor."

"Dated Salt Lake, October 19, 1911." It will be remembered that when the complaint was made against Mrs. Edward J. Chandler, she left the state and took up quarters at Malad, Idaho, and the officers of the Crittenton Home took steps to bring the lady back from the Gem state for trial. The communication from Governor Spry's clerk, that the governor of Idaho will not honor the requisition of the Utah governor for the return of the woman to Utah, rather complicates matters and places the ones who are desirous of prosecuting Mrs. Chandler for her alleged offense in an awkward position.

The Crittenton Home ladies are undaunted, however, in their determination to have Mrs. Chandler answer the charge preferred against her, and they now purpose to bring all the facts connected with the case before Governor Hawley of Idaho, and ask him to honor Governor Spry's requisition. They claim that the governor of Idaho has heard but the Chandler side of the story and that when he hears the other side he will change his mind. The ladies say, too, that they will call Governor Hawley's attention to the fact that as a matter of official courtesy, and in recognition of the integrity of the governor of Utah, he should honor Governor Spry's request for the return of Mrs. Chandler, that she might be placed on trial for an alleged offense. They say also that Governor Spry had all of the facts presented to him, the Chandlers as well as the Crittenton Home board having been represented before him, and that he readily agreed that the evidence in the case was amply sufficient to warrant calling Mrs. Chandler into court.

It appears, however, that by virtue of an exchange of telegrams and letters between the attorney general's office of Utah and that of Idaho, divulging the fact that the governor of Idaho had fondled the Chandler child and determined that the mother should not be called to answer the charge preferred against her by the officials of Utah, Governor Spry has not seen fit to hand the requisition papers to Sheriff Harrison for service.

LAST DAY OF TOMATO SEASON

This is the last day of the tomato season in Utah and tomorrow will witness the closing of the canning factories so far as the canning of tomatoes is concerned.

All reports indicate that the present season has been a very successful one and the pack, while not quite as large as that of last year, is satisfactory to the growers and packers. The factories during the present week have been engaged finishing the canning of tomatoes already on hand. Tomatoes which remain in the fields are frost bitten, but many of the growers still have a few tomatoes which were picked green before the recent frosts. Those which have been ripened in the sun have kept the canneries busy for the past few days.

PICTURE THEATER

The MOVING PICTURE Theaters are showing some very good bills for the last half week. A whirling stunt of the acrobats is almost incredible, but there it is right before your eyes. A most pathetic plea for the kindergarten is shown in "The Threshold of Life." Mrs. McDermott is again at the GLOBE in "Old Sweetheart of Mine," beautiful story, sweetly told. "Two Little Love Birds" and "Day Dreams" by the Orchestra are especially appropriate to this picture.

The Photo Play Theaters have been undergoing thorough fall house cleaning and inside and out are presenting a most inviting appearance. The Oracle lobby is a thing of beauty and an ornament to Washington avenue, and the three new pillars with the six brilliant arcs give the brightness of day in front of the ORACLE, ISIS and GLOBE.

NO CHANGES IN STRIKE ON ROADS

The strike situation in the Southern Pacific shops remains unchanged. The railroad officials say that everything is resuming a normal condition and that the stories of freight congestion at many points on the Harriman lines are without foundation.

The story that freight blockades on the Denver & Rio Grande road at points in Colorado are due to the divergence of freight from the Harriman lines to the Gould lines, because of the strike, is denied by the Harriman officials.

In explaining the freight blockades the officials of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad say that the trouble is largely due to flood conditions in Colorado.

Walter Ames, vice president of the International Machinists' association, is still in Ogden and has assumed control of the situation for the Federation. Other national officers of the various crafts of the Federation are expected to visit Ogden within a few days.

A delegation from the Salt Lake Federation visited this city Thursday night and reported that the conditions at the capital were favorable to the shopmen.

SHOT WHILE HE WAS OUT HUNTING

Lawrence De Lamerter, the eighteen-year-old son of Edgar De Lamerter of 1065 Farley Lane, was accidentally shot at Syracuse, Wednesday evening, while out hunting with a companion. It is said that he is now in a critical condition at the home of a friend at Syracuse.

Young De Lamerter and a friend went out hunting and in some unaccountable way his companion's gun was discharged, the load of shot striking Mr. De Lamerter in the leg. It required three hours' time to get a doctor, the young man bleeding freely in the meantime. He was taken to a neighboring house where the physician attended him. The loss of blood was so great that it is questionable whether the wounded boy will survive. The parents are at Syracuse today.

INCORPORATE DRUG COMPANY

Articles of incorporation of the Sutton Drug company were filed with the county clerk today. The incorporators being L. H. Becraft, T. W. Hutton, Estella Becraft, Gertrude Hutton and Ernest M. Clark.

The capital stock of the company is fixed at $3,000, divided into shares of the par value of $100 each. The first officers of the company are L. H. Becraft, president; T. W. Hutton, vice president and managing director; Ernest Clark, secretary.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—United States coast artillery has been recalled to San Diego by the war department from the Mexican border line near Campo, Cal., where it was sent when Mexican troops were allowed to cross American territory to conduct an expedition against the Magallanes in Lower California.

Furs Cheaper

We can supply you now with furs as cheaply as you could buy them in November or December. The advantage of this early sale is that you may select a fur now and have the full season's service, yet pay no more than those who wait for the season-end sales.

We believe there is an additional advantage of buying furs here—first, we have no carried over stock. The fur you select here now, whether it be a full expensive set or a small neck piece, will be absolutely new and without a flaw. It should be remembered, in buying furs, that carried over stock is liable to be moth-marked as many concerns do not take proper precautions to protect the stock carried from season to season. Select now any fur piece in this very well-assorted stock and the price we ask will be as low as you could hope for in December.
